

Laser Tattoo Removal Cost in Kenya

How Much Does Laser Tattoo Removal Cost?

Laser treatment for tattoo removal cost is not uniformly calculated, and the best way to breakdown the cost of laser tattoo removal is the cost by treatment or session. For those seeking tattoo removal in Nairobi and other parts of Kenya, laser tattoo removal can cost between 2,500 KES to 10,000 KES per session, which usually varies based on factors like tattoo location, colors and size. These cost factors play a significant role in determining the overall laser treatment price in Kenya.

Pay-per-session

At Inkless Is More, we offer the option to pay-per-session, and the flat cost per removal session is 4,500 KES, regardless of the size of the tattoo. However, the true cost of laser tattoo removal comes in the number of sessions required for effective tattoo ink removal and lightening.

This is why we offer packages which significantly reduce the total cost and make laser tattoo removal efficient and affordable to the greatest number. Before starting your treatment plan, we recommend a consultation to discuss potential side effects, pain management techniques, and the use of numbing cream during the procedure.

3 Sessions Package

Financially, the packages are a smarter investment compared to single session payments. It eliminates the hassle of transactional payments each visit, allowing you to focus on healing, aftercare, and getting that tattoo removed. This pre-payment method also serves as a commitment to your tattoo removal journey, getting you much closer to seeing the results you want from your first purchase.

We're confident in our assertion: our comprehensive tattoo removal package offers unparalleled value for those seeking the most cost-effective solution. While we proudly stand by this all-inclusive option, we also recognize the need for a middle ground—an alternative that surpasses the traditional pay-per-session model without committing to our full package.

When you know you want to see results but aren't ready to commit to the complete removal package, consider choosing a 3-pack. This package is very likely to show fading, and works perfectly as a trial to show how your body will react to laser tattoo removal. The 3 sessions package can be enough to completely remove a small tattoo, depending on factors such as tattoo colors and ink depth.

5 Sessions Package

This is our most popular package, which is designed to show impressive tattoo fading results on thick tattoos and complete removal of small and medium size tattoos. The effectiveness of removal can vary based on factors such as professional tattoos versus amateur tattoos.

Furthermore, properly spacing out the treatments in a 5-pack allows for optimal healing time between sessions. Tattoo removal relies on your body's natural healing process, made achievable by the laser removal, to achieve the best results. By having a set number of sessions spaced appropriately, you are more likely to see your desired outcome. It's important to follow post-treatment care instructions, including sun protection, to maximize results and minimize complications.

What Is The Best Deal For My Tattoo?

As the laser tattoo removal specialists in Kenya, Inkless Is More has come up with the best deal to get tattoos faded or completely removed. The best deal for tattoo removal is the Complete Removal Package. The Complete Removal Package helps you have full control of your budget and guarantees results.

One package price gets you unlimited sessions until your tattoo is fully removed. Instead of paying for laser tattoo removal sessions one at a time, you can save money by locking in your treatment for a Complete Removal Package with only one price. This approach ensures that you're covered for multiple sessions, which are often necessary for complete tattoo ink removal.

Inkless Is More understands that while many opt for pay-per-session tattoo removal, this method often proves less advantageous and more expensive for clients over time. By offering a Complete Removal Package, we provide a single-price solution for unlimited treatments, substantially lowering your per-session cost throughout your tattoo removal journey.

This package offers the best removal effectiveness, regardless of the treatment duration required for your specific tattoo.

Before/After 8 sessions treatment

Remember, the success of your tattoo removal journey depends on various factors, including your commitment to the treatment plan and following proper aftercare instructions. Always consult with a professional to determine the best approach for your specific tattoo and skin type.
